Sick of National Companies with no personalized local service? VTUMS is Vermont owned and operated.

Hurting from huge pavement costs for small underground repairs? With hydro excavating, these repairs can be done in a much smaller area and not beat up your budget.

Worried that you will damage a gas or sewer line when you are excavating with a bucket? Hydro excavating is the “no bucket” solution using high pressure water and suction protecting existing utilities.

Are wipes clogging your pump stations and causing backups in your sewer mains? Our 27” blower is the most powerful in the industry for deep pump stations and structures others can’t get.
